Learn at Home to Be a Pharmacy Technician

Penn Foster Career School

Your Future as a Pharmacy Technician.

You can join the ranks of trained Pharmacy Technicians now working around the world, in as little as nine months, with at-home training from Penn Foster Career School. Here are just a few of the options available when you complete your Career Diploma program:

- Work at a hospital, clinic, nursing home, or rehabilitation center helping patients under the supervision of a doctor.
- Keep the pharmacy in order at your local drugstore or supermarket. Work under the supervision of the pharmacist serving customers.
- Prepare for an entry-level position at a drug manufacturing company — you can even find opportunities in pharmaceutical sales!

Prepare for a High-Growth, High-Salary Career.

As the pharmaceutical needs of a larger and older population continue to grow, so does the need for trained Pharmacy Technicians. Increasingly, they are performing a valuable service to the community.

Trained and experienced Pharmacy Technicians make good salaries doing important, exciting work that commands respect, admiration, and gratitude from patients, doctors, and coworkers.

It Pays to Continue Your Education.

The need for training and retraining in new skills for today's changing job market has motivated many adults to continue their education. In the United States, during 2002-2003, 40% of all persons aged 16 and above participated in adult education for work related purposes.† This trend will likely continue across the globe.

Penn Foster addresses this growing need with Career Diploma programs like Pharmacy Technician. Preparing for your new career is easy and convenient.

- There is no going to class, no need to rearrange schedules. You choose the time and place to complete your coursework.
- You work at your own pace — as quickly as you like — and you don't have to take time from job and social responsibilities.
- The learning materials you need are sent to you for your convenience.
- You can study online, through the printed page, or a combination of both. You decide which method best suits your learning style.
- You can also email your instructor, check your grades, or review your student records online.
- You need no previous experience, just a Secondary School or High School Diploma, or equivalent. Easy-to-understand lessons guide you from the beginning to the end of your program.

Penn Foster Career School Is Accredited.

- Accredited by the Middle States Commission on Secondary Schools for its vocational-technical programs.
