You can join the ranks of skilled Business Managers now working around the world, with distance education from Penn Foster College. Here are just a few of the options available when you complete your Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Management:

- Work for an established business in an industry that suits your interest.
- Qualify for a career in sales, marketing, or general management.
- Work as an inventory control manager, production supervisor, or operations manager.
- Run your own business.

Prepare for a High-Growth, High-Salary Career.

As more new businesses open, the need for trained business managers grows.

Business managers with the right education and skills earn high salaries and great benefits. They do important, exciting work that commands respect and appreciation from clients, employers, and coworkers.

It Pays to Continue Your Education.

The need for training and retraining in new skills for today's changing job market has motivated many adults to continue their education.

Penn Foster College addresses this growing need with Bachelor of Science Degree programs like Business Management. Preparing for your new career is easy and convenient.

- There is no going to class, no need to rearrange schedules. You choose the time and place to complete your coursework.
- You work at your own pace — as quickly as you like — and you don't have to take time from job and social responsibilities.
- The learning materials you need are sent to you for your convenience.
- You can study online, through the printed page, or a combination of both. You decide which method best suits your learning style.
- You can also download study materials, submit assignments, take exams, email your instructor, check your grades, or review your student records online.
- You need no previous experience, just a Secondary School or High School Diploma, or equivalent.
